

Others play politics. We do politics.

A network diagram consisting of a central white circle with a black border containing the text "Others play politics. We do politics." in red. This central node is connected to several other dark grey circular nodes of varying sizes by thin grey lines, all set against a background of a larger, fainter network of nodes and lines.

Internship Opportunities

Cor Strategies is seeking Social Media, Data & Tech, Government Affairs, and Event Planning Redshirts (interns) to join various local and statewide political campaigns and assist our internal team. As a Cor Redshirt, you'll become equipped with the knowledge and skills to contribute to high stakes political campaigns.

Opportunities to work with candidates and campaigns that have the ability to win are extremely rare. Cor Strategies is selective in our clients, only working with candidates and causes we believe in and can be proud of.

The goal of our internship program is to equip you with key skills to contribute to a campaign and prepare you to join a political campaign in 2022 or potentially become a long-term member of the Cor Strategies team.
